#Londontogether

We have been continuing to support the #londontogether hashtag and would continue to encourage you to do the same as they include regular updates that can help all businesses, including the recent pay it forward scheme. Please visit our social media pages for further information on this or the pay it forward website directly. More info about Pay it Forward and how to support is here – <https://payitforward.london.gov.uk/>

Learning & Enterprise College

We would like to congratulate the Learning & Enterprise College on their recent Ofsted inspection, Ofsted praise in their report the College that is 'good' at changing futures as well as praising Staff and governors. Ofsted carried out the inspection at the beginning of March. It judged the College 'good' for quality of education, behaviour and attitudes, personal development, leadership and management, adult learning programmes, and its provision for learners with high needs.

Leave on a Light

Final year Rose Bruford College BA (Hons) Actor Musicianship student Christian Powlesland, has enlisted the help of fellow students, alumni and staff from the Sidcup Drama School to perform and record a charity single he has written in support of the Acting for Others charity and the NHS. After writing 'Leave on a Light' for another project, Christian decided to record it as a single to support his chosen charities. He then reached out to the college community to put together a huge virtual choir of over 70 members for the powerful climax of the song. Christian said: "The song is the culmination of five weeks work and has been my creative lifeline during lock-down. I needed to record as many voices as I could for the climax of the song, so I reached out to the Bruford community via social media. The final result was far bigger and more beautiful than I ever expected, and I couldn't be more grateful to everyone who got involved.” Donations can be made via the Leave on a Light Crowdfunder page. Donations of £3 or more can receive an audio download of the song, whilst donations of £5 or more can receive the video and audio download.

Shop Local

We are all aware of the impact Covid-19 has had on our local businesses and ask you to shop locally during and after the pandemic. Many of our local businesses who do not usually offer online services have started to offer their services online where possible. We kindly ask you to check and see if your local favourite businesses are doing this and show them some support. The need to social distance has also seen a number of our local businesses alter their services to fit in line with this. Many of our local restaurants are offering take away service or delivery, if you would usually visit these restaurants please consider a takeaway or delivery instead, it really will mean so much to that small business during this time, helping to support local cafes, bars and restaurants through the coming months is important to their survival. There are plenty of other ways you can also help and support without spending, such as following them on social media and leaving great reviews online, positive words of encouragement and great reviews from your previous interactions with our local businesses or recent ones not only keeps up moral but keeps that local business on the radar, a simple like or comment across social media can really help our small local businesses. Shop Local and support each other!

Protecting businesses from Covid-19 Scams

Malicious email attachments, false government grant phone calls and CEO impersonation scams are among a raft of scams undermining businesses as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The increasing risk has led National Trading Standards to launch Businesses Against Scams – a free online training tool to protect businesses, employees and customers from costly scams.

Its about showing Entrepreneurialship during these times!

We were delighted to see and share your imaginative ways you have changed your businesses and business models during the lockdown. See them here!
