Congratulations to Kelly and her team - The Wright Eyewear Company

We are delighted to announce that The Wright Eyewear company have been shortlisted from hundreds of entries to become one of only five finalists for the Fashion Practice of the year award at the coveted national Optician Award 2022

Here is what Kelly said about the nomination

Fashion and eyewear are inextricably linked and the Optician Awards are there to reward a practice that understands how that is translated into retail optics. The winning practice will understand the importance of colour and stylish eyewear and will be proactive in sourcing product that makes the practice stand out. The judges want to see the active encouragement of eyewear as a fashion accessory and the engagement of converts to eye fashion. The panel will be particularly interested in hearing from entrants how their practice is promoted and positioned within the community and about links with other fashion-focused businesses.

The team and I are extremely proud to have achieved a Finalist status and want to take this opportunity to thank all of our incredible clients who support our business, love their eyewear and wear their glasses proudly! I truly believe we deserve finalist status because my team work so hard, are passionate about us being an optician who go above and beyond and have fashion at the heart of what they do, I'm extremely proud of them!

The awards are held on the 30th of November at the Hilton in Park Lane, London. Keep your fingers crossed for us!
